To Rev. Samuel May Jr. No.50

[Concord, N.H.] The writer asks why Oliver Johnson alternately praises and condemns Rev. George Barrell Cheever. Objects to a letter written by Johnson about him to Rev. May. Says he disagrees with Stephen S. Foster about Non-Resistance, political activities, etc. Criticizes the policy of advertising Horace Greeley's "Overland Letters," because they oppose enfranchisement of the negroes.

To Joshua Leavitt

«Dover, N.H.» Hopes in a few weeks "to get wholly into the field of labour in behalf of our Cause," expecting to close his ministry in Dover about the first of June. The writer is going to Hanover next week to give a series of lectures to college students. Considers it desirable to spend a few weeks in this region and to make an excursion into Maine in the addressee's behalf before going south. Amos A. Phelps, in behalf of the new organization, also wishes the writer to labor for a while in Western Massachusetts. "I informed him that I had no objections if you were willing." When the cold weather comes on, the write[illegible]uld like to go south.

«Dover, N.H.» The writer apologizes for delay in replying to the addressee's invitation and is doubtful if he will be able to attend her tea party at Weymouth. Remarks that he is "but a politician , looking for the developments of public opinion such as the ballot box gives us, and trusting mainly to that source for an effectual...reformation of the people." Does not, however, disparage "the efforts made in other directions," and pays tribute to the pioneers in the Anti-Slavery movement.

1779 Dec 25 Bartlett, Josiah, 1729-1795; physician and patriot.

To Nathaniel Peabody, In Congress, Philadelphia.

[Exeter, N.H.] The Board of Treasury has sent to N.H. an account of sums of money against them. The account does not credit the state with sums allowed to the delegates nor to Nicholas Gilman, the Continental Loan Officer. Asks Peabody if he has any recollection of the state receiving such sums. Believes there has been some mistake and requests his attention to the matter. A.L.S. 2p. 13 x 8 1/2 in.

«Great Falls, N.H.» The ladies of Great Falls are considering holding a fair, the proceeds of which are to go toward the support of Nathaniel P. Rogers as editor of the Herald of Freedom. For thispurpose they request the addressee to send them such articles as the Boston Female A.S. Society has left over from previous fairs. There was formerly in Great Falls a flourishing Female Anti-Slavery Society, but "that perfect child of hell the spirit of Sectarian religion and New organization has succeeded in sowing the seeds of its own infernal character amongst thoughs«sic»who ownce«sic» delighted to labour faithfully for the sla[illegible]"

"Knowing the contempt with which our cause is received in this village, we felt that it was almost a desperate effort now to get up a fair," therefore did not make adequate preparations. They now realize their mistake and think that if they had enough articles, they might sell them to advantage. Therefore they solicit "the remainder of the articles."

[Hanover.] Richardson and Patillo have been ordained. Refers him to Gillies for an account of the Cherokee Indians; there is a rumor that they have massacred Mr. Martin. Informs him of the death of Mr. Edwards (Jonathan Edwards?). He and Wright conferred with the Governor who assured them of all immunity granted by the Act of Toleration. Believes the number of his negro communicants to be increasing; will appreciate the books he is sending to them. Expects to hear soon of the surrender of Louisberg. Comments on the Virginia troops who, with the Pa. forces, are to attack Fort du Quesne. Lord Loudon has left, leaving a bad impression of his character.

To John A. Collins

‹Loudon, N. H.› The writer enthusiastically praises Garrison and the Liberator in contrast to the Abolitionist. The ministry of New Hampshire is much like that of Massachusetts; "it was cast in the same moulds at the Woods & Stuart Foundry, Andover, Mass." When the campaign against Garrison is closed, they will direct their weapons against the Herald of Freedom. The writer laments the sectarian spirit, and recounts a conversation with a minister's wife who said that "the new organization has all the pious abolitionists in the state ..." Opposition to the writer is so great that he cannot be ordained and "hardly tolerated to preach at all." Recalls the lectures of Prof[illegible] (Ralph) Emerson, and asks what the addressee thinks [illegible]ndover. Contrasts Hubbard Winslow, "drinking toasts to the Duelist & Libertine & slavehol-

Sept.	To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman	No.65

⌊Portsmouth, N.H.⌋ The writer offers, in response to the addressee's request, a contribution to the Liberty Bell. The writer had succeeded in forming a Ladies' Anti-Slavery Society but "we were few in numbers & almost wholly wanting in zeal." Abby Kelley's recent lectures, however, have resulted in an increase in numbers and interest. Miss Kelley, having procured about 20 new subscribers for the Nat. Anti-Slavery Standard, requested the writer to suggest to the addressee that, since many of the subscribers know nothing about the Anti-Slavery cause except what they have learned from her lectures, "a portion of the Standard be devoted exclusively to the first principles of the subject." [illegible]pt.29th the writer encloses a small sum for the Liberty Bell, and tells of "a noble lecture" by Jason Whitman, a Unitarian clergyman. Asks the add-

To Rev. Robert Folger Wallcutt

[Portsmouth, N.H.] The writer says his "responsibility for the (Christian) Register is necessarily limited..." He and Rev. John H. Morison agreed that an article sent by Rev. May ought to be suppressed because it put Rev. May in a "worse position than he occupied before." The article referred to an issue of the Register which appeared in two versions, one of which omitted an article by Rev. John Parkman. The writer and Rev. Morison both deny the truth of Rev. May's charges, but do not explain the absence of the Parkman article from one of the two versions of the Register.

«New Jersey» The writer inquires about the plan of the addressee (as correspondent for the Boston Female Anti-Slavery Society) in regard to petitions. Says that you can't print petitions to the State Legislature on the same sheets with those to Congress. Miss Sarah Moore Grimké "does not think she and her sister accomplish so much for the cause by traveling together, as they would by laboring separately." If Miss Grimké had been nominated, she would, as one of the central committee for New York State, have devoted herself "to the very important work of petitions." The writer tells the addressee where she can sen[illegible]titions and publications and mentions Mrs. Sarah J. Smit[illegible] having been active in the cause in Northampton, Mass. and Mrs. Lydia Maria Child's Circular to the press. Discusses questions of sending out publications, in relation to expense and the amounts pledged. Regrets that they can print only 500 each of Angelina Emily Grimké's Appeal and her sister's Address. Requests a copy of the petition, which the addressee (i.e. her Society) intends to send to Congress. A.L.S. 4 p. 9 3/4 x 7 3/4 in.

In a postscript, the writer states the price that she has ascertained for printing the Minutes, the address and the Appeals.

«Belleville, New Jersey» Hopes that "some providence" will prevent England from going to war with China. Is not as enthusiastic about American Abolitionists as Harriet Martineau. Thinks that there are a few people in every Quaker meeting who control the consciences of those present. "I do rejoice that William Bassett has been strengthened to plead the cause of the oppressed..." Criticised the Society of Friends in a document to be sent to the World's Anti-Slavery Convention. A letter from J. Sturge has been published in the Emancipator, "in which he mentions that a report has reached England that women will be sent as delegates ..." S. M. G. disapproves of the idea. [Newark, N. J.?] The writer acknowledges a letter which was read by the Society "with the holiest interest." Rejoices that the addressees have been drawn to a consideration of the great truths to promulgate which they have associated themselves as peace societies. The sympathy of Christian friends is peculiarly valuable in a field which promises a glorious harvest, but in which the laborers seem few. Dwells on the traditional view of war as frequently praiseworthy, and on the dazzling effect of martial array and the seemingly heroic. Reflection, however, convinced them of the sinfulness of war, and we saw that it brought [illegible]ts train all other sins. The Gospel of Christ is sufficie[illegible]ide; to love our enemies and to resist those who persecute us is the only warfare in which
